The extended abstract should not exceed the maximum limit of 8 pages, considering:

- (i) A4 size sheet,
- ii) Double spacing between lines and (iii) Times New Roman, size 12.
- iii) The document should also have an abstract of up to 125 words.

Each extended abstract will be reviewed through a blind review process by two reviewers familiar with the research theme.

The reviewing process has as general parameters the following criteria:

- Does the title adequately inform the reader about the subject of the work?
- Does the author clearly indicate the question of research addressed in the work, justifying its relevance?
- Do the statements in the abstract lead directly to the purpose of the study?

- Does the author cite relevant literature and the state of the art of the research area?
- Are the methods used in the study adequate to address the research question?

Based on these parameters, each reviewer gives a grade of 1 to 10 for the extended abstract, as well as indicates if the work should be: accepted; accepted only if there is space in the program; or rejected.

Finally, the reviewer can also provide feedback to the authors. In case of rejection of the work, the reviewers are requested to justify briefly its decision / recommendation.

Regarding the theme to be addressed, will be within the set of papers accepted national or international articles dealing with the following topics:

- Human Resource Management models and the international and national dimensions of management models;
